Maureen:

I want to thank you for your inspiring presentation to our students on Wednesday, February 25, 2009 concerning your business perspective and the challenges for leaders in today's environment. We had a great turnout and the feedback I received from the students was outstanding.

All of them felt they were able to take away key points that you raised in your presentation which will help them in their careers. I received a lot of good feedback about how you presented which they felt was very inspirational and motivational especially when you were story telling about your personal experiences.

Every student that I talked with commented that you were the best presenter that this university has ever asked to speak with their students. They all would like to see you back soon.

Thank you very much,

Dr. Vincent Pellettiere
Assistant Professor
